THE STEAM YACHT NORTH STAR .- This vessel was put into the U.S Dry Dock at the Navy Yard on Thursday eveningforexamination. At 11 o'clock yesterday the dock had sen emptied of the water, and it was found that her kee had been somewhat scratched and bruised for a distance of 70 or 80 feet from the bow; but no serious injury was discovered. Ten or twelve workmen were immediately employed in repairing the slight damage. The intention of taking out a large party of friends to Sandy Hock, who were to return by the Francis Skiddy, was necessarily abandoned. At 7 o'clock last evening, the slight repairs necessary had been made, and the North Star moved out of the Dry Dock. At 71 o'clock her steam was up, and she moved down the East River and Bay in gallant style. firing a number of guns on her way to the ocean. It was probable that she would cast anchor at night in the Lower Bay, and proceed this morning on her voyage.

Charge of Kidnapping against Sailors attached to

THE SARDINIAN PRIGATE SAN GIOVANNI,-Two Sardinian Sallers attached to the Frigate San Giovanni were yesterday arrested by Officers Lord and Dowling, of the Lower Police Court, on a warrant issued by Justice Bogart, charging them with having, on Tuesday last, seized an Italian Manuel Martin Franchi, a resident of Clifton, Staten Island while upon the Battery, and conveyed him on board the vessel, where he was placed in irons and detained for some bours. On his return, he went before the Magistrate and Feferred complaint against the two accused and others oncerned with them in the outrage. Awarrant was is-sed and placed in the hands of the above named officers beeve, who, on Thursday afternoon, proceeded in a small boat to the vessel, but were refused permission to board ber The officers then returned and informed the magic trate of what had occurred. The latter then had a consultation with the District Attorney, and these gentlemen had an interview with the Mayor and Chief of Police relative to the matter. The Sardinian Consul was notified of the occurrence, and about noon yesterday, he called upon the Mayor and Chief of Police, to whom he stated, as a reason that the Police Officers had been rafused admission on board the vessel, that the Captain did not understand the nature of their visit. Mr. Bardett, the Mayor's Clerk, accompanied by Officer Dowling, then proceeded to the Sar dinian Consul's office, and there met the Captain of the frigate who, upon being made acquainted with the circurestances, immediately gave orders to admit the Police Officers on board the vessel, that the parties charged in the Barrant might be arrested. M. Franchi, the complainant, was requested to accompany the officers, with a view of identifying the accused, but refused, lest, as he said, he might again be kidnapped. He has been in this country about two years and a half, has declared his intention of ming a citizen, and owns property on Staten Island. In it, he states that at the time the outlage was committed he was walking toward the Staten Island boat. when he met two Italians who informed him that the exiles brought out by the frigate had been very badly treated while on board. Some of the sallors of the vessel were sear at the time, and he asked them how they could treat his brethren so badly. They replied in a dialect unknown to him, and then struck him, knocked him down and drag ted him by the hair to the boat, in which he was conveyed ea board the frigate, where he was ill treated, as above stated. The two sailors who were arrested were taken before Justice Bogart, but were allowed to leave the Court, the Sardmian Consul becoming responsible for their ap-pearance for examination at 11 o'clock this morning. Their tames were not taken by the magistrate. Had the complainant consented to accompany the officers on board the venel, he would probably, have identified others of the treive or fourteen who are alleged to have been concerned

ASTOR PLACE OPERA HOUSE.—The Furniture, Scenery and Fixtures of this House was sold at 12 o'clock yesterday by Corrix & HAYDOCK. The aggregate proceeds of the sale amounted to about $3,000. Among the purchasers were Mr. Wardell, wio paid $500 for the magnifident Chandelier; Mr. John Duer, the purchaser of the 54 Sofas, at $4 each; the iron railing around the galleries was pur chased by Mr. Niblo, at an average of 60 cents per foot Mr. Kimball, of the Boston Museum, paid $90 for the whole of the parquette seats; Mr. Niblo bouget a large number of complete opera scenes, painted by Leges, for about $200; Mr. F. W. Sea uis purchased the whole of the plumbing work for $60, cost $2,00; Johnson & Brother purchased the whole of the gas-fixtures for $70, cost $1,800; Mr. Kemp, proprietor of the Odeon, Williamsburgh, bought a large number of drop scene, flats, &c., for $100; the act ourtain and drop curtain was sold for $35 to a liquor dealer. who intends making a barroom from them. The whole of the fixtures were sold at an equally low rate. The sale was concluded at 21 o'clock; after the sale the process of removal commenced immediately, and when we left the din of hammers and the noise of porters and carmen resounded through the building. The whole of the materials sold must be removed by Tuesday next.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, a blind man named Eli Danks, jr., was toesed and injured by a mad ox, at the corner of John and Pearlets. The animal passed ap John st., towards Broadway.

ALLES ST. YOUTHS' MISSIGNARY SOCIETY.-This Society celebrated its Sixteenth Anniversary last evening, at the Allen st. M. E. Church. A goodly number of persons were present. The business of the meeting was commenced by he appointment of Rev. Mr. Goodsoll to the Chair- The Report of the past year was road; the net receipts amount ed to $712 44. The Report specified the different popular fields of Missionary enterprise open to the operatives of this Society, among which were Africa, Sandwich Islands-South America, China and India. Revs. Maurice D. Crawford, Robt, M. Hatfield, and Mr. Milley addressed the meeting at length in advocating the claims of this Society to their countenance and support, and united in advising all present to contribute liberally both by contribution and prayer to the aid of this cause. The young men of the Society bore the expense ($10 each) of constituting the folowing Bishops: Waugh, James, Scott, Simpson, Ames, Baker, and Morris, and their wives as life patrons of the Society. After the transaction of the regular business a collection was taken up, and after singing and benediction, the meeting dispersed.

The sale of the Vanderbilt Ferry Interests, mentioned yesterday, was for the sum of $600,000, of which $150,000 was paid down at once. The property sold and purchased embraces all the Commodors's property at New-Brighton, valued at two hundred thousand dollars; all the poats at the White Hall Ferry; the lease of the White Hall Slip : of the Slip on the north side of the Battery ; all his Water Right on Staten Island, extending from Staplto New Brighton, a distance o' nearly two miles ; the Quarantine Dock : Mr. Vanderbilt's Mansion, and all the ground adjoining; the extensive new Dock Building; all the north side Ferry and Boats, and the wharves at Port Richmond and other places; all the leases of houses, from St. Audrew's Church; in fact, all the Commodore's Ferries, Ferry Rights, Landings, and property on both sides of the Island. It is now intended to keep up half hour boats to the Island, and to keep down the fares-if possible, to reduce the rates still further. The new purchasers are large property-owners on the Island. Their first inducement to run the Ferry was to put down the fare, and to improve their real estate.

Mr. CHARLES ASTOR BRISTED, our City's distinguished representative at the high Court of Fashion, who writes to The Home Journal from "Numero 20, Rue Burbel de louy," that he can find in Paris no gloves fit to wear though he has "not a bad hand," and his glove-bill exceeds $400 per annum, appears to have been fallen in with during his travels by our dear countryman, J. Ross Browne, who in his "Yusef." just published, daguerreotypes him as fol-

" When I first saw him, he was on the way from Florence

e When I first saw him, he was on the way from Florence to Milan, in quest of a pair of pantaloons of a particular style. No man in Europe understood cutting except Pantaletti. There was a set in Pantaletti that made him indispensable. He had tried the Parisian tailors, but they were officient in the knees. It was his intention to proceed at once from Milan to Leipsio for boots; the Germans were the only people who brought boots to parfection, and decidedly the best were to be had at Leipsio. He expected to be obliged to return to l'aris for shirts; there was a set in the collar of the Parisian shirt that suited him. His medicines he always purchased in London; his cigars he was forced to import from Havana; his Lataka tobacco he was compelled to purchase himself in Smyrna, and this was partly the occasion of his present visit. As to wince, it was nonsense to undertake to drink any but the pure Johannisberg—which he generally saw bottled on the Rhine every summer, in order to avoid imposition. His winters he spent chiefly in Spain; it was the only country where good cream was to be had; but the coffee was infector, and he sometimes had to cross the Pyrenees for want of a good pood cream was to be had; but the coffee was inferior, and he sometimes had to cross the Pyrenees for want of a good cup of coffee. No mode of traveling suited him exactly—in fact, he dishiked traveling. Riding he hated, because it joited him; walking, because it tired him; the snow, because it was cold; the sun, because it was warm; Rome, because it was damp; Nice, because it was dry; Athens, because it was damp; Nice, because it was dry; Athens, because it was dusty. (By the way, I disliked Athens myself, chielly on that account; Bimby was right there.) But it was impossible for him to live in America again. What could any man of taste do there! No pictures, no ruins, no society, no opera, no classical associations—nothing at all, except business; and all sorts of business he despised. It was a ridiculous as well as a vulgar way of spending life. In fact, the only decent people he had met with were the French; a man might contrive to exist a while in Paris. Not that he approved attogether of the French language; it wanted depth and richness; the only language worthy of It wanted depth and richness: the only language worthy of a man of sense was the Sanscrit. As soon as he had suited himself in boots at Leipsic, he was going to perfect himself in Sanscrit at the University at Berlin; after which he hoped in Salaciti at the trace of a hard study by a tour through Ravaria, which was the only country on the face of the earth where the beer was it to drink.

The assertion that Mr. McG. was hostile because Mr. H. had stated that be (Assistant Ald. McG.) had offered bribes, was not re-he (Assistant Ald. McG.) had offered bribes, was not repeated in the new affidavit.

A statement of Assistant Ald. McG. made to the Committee was also given. He had felt it his duty, as a member of the Board, the question coming up, to state in his place, in the form of an affidavit, what had occured—he has no proof, no persons being present but himself and Ruse, beyond his affidavit—in relation to the insimuations or charges made by Mr. Ruse, he (Ald. McG.) invites the fullest scrutiny, and demands that a responsible accuser be named, and that the matter be investigated. The Committee consider that Mr. McG. had a right to offer the affidavit. The Committee having stated the facts, asked to be discharged. Mr. McGown stated that the assertion in the affidavit of Mr. Ruse, that he had always voted against the Ruse pavement was not true, as he had never voted against it. The report was accepted and Committee discharged.

Report in favor of building new carriage for Company No. 13. Concurred in.

Veto of the Moyor .- Assistant Ald. Bouton moved to take from the table the report and resolutions in favor of giving contract to Messrs. Huss & Reed for construction of Russ pavement from Park row, through Chatham st. and Bowry, to and around Union square, adopted by this Board sec. 27, 1852, but returned by his Honor the Mayor with his objections thereto. Carried.

ALLEGED LARCENY .- A female named Mrs. Mary Cass was yesterday arrested by Officers Prince John Davis and Sweeney, of the Lower Police Court, charged with stealing a quantity of clothing, jewelry, &c, to the value of about $500, belonging to Mrs. Mary J. Barton, who, at the time, was temporarily residing at No. 18 Hudson st., where the accused also resides. The property is alleged to have been taken on the 10th inst., while Mrs. Barton was absent from the house. The premises were searched, but no portion of the property was found. The matter will be investigated the among the Justice Boyart. th s morning by Justice Bogart.

RESTORED TO HER FRIENDS .- A few weeks since a RESTORED TO HER FRIENDS.—A few weeks since a young weman, 19 years of age, named Louisa Beebe, left the residence of her parents, at New London, Conn., and came to this City. For a time, she took up her abode in a respectable family, but from some cause, known only to herself, she was induced to leave her new home and go to a disreputable house in Water st, where she remained until Thursday night, when she was taken from the house and returned to her friends, through the exertions of Ald. Haley, and Capt. Leonard, of the Second Ward Police, to whom her brother had, on that day, applied for assistance to rescue his sister from a life of infamy. After a protracted interview with her brother, she consented to return home with him. The keeper of the brothel behaved in a very disorderly manner, and for a time stoutly refused admission to her house to Capt. Leonard and the Alderman. to her house to Capt. Leonard and the Alderman.

Fire —About 7 o'clock last evening a fire broke out in the extensive carpenter shop of Samuel Martin, Nos. 47 and 49 Hammersly st. In consequence of the large amount of light material about, the flames spread with alumning rapidity, and before they could be subdued by the firemen, who were early on the ground, a large quantity of doors, win dow asshes and other building stock ready for use, was determined to the country of the stock of the sto dow-sashes and other building stock ready for use, was de-stroyed. At one time a serious conflagration was appre-hended, there being many light wooden buildings in the neighborhood, but through the exertions of the firemen the fire was confined to the above premises. The damage is estimated at about $2,000. The fire is supposed to have originated from some sparks blown from the chimney of the foundry adjoining.

FOUND DEAD IN A VACANT LOT.—The body of Catherine

Armstrong, apparently 65 years of age, was found yester-day morning in a vacant lot, in Seventy-Sixth-st, near Broadway. No marks of violence were discovered upon the body. It was taken to the dead house at Bellevus Hos-pital, where Coroner Hilton will this morning hold an inthe appeared to have been lifeless about three days. There is a high wall around the lot, and, the gate being locked, it is a matter of surprise how she obtained entrance into it, twas ascertained that she lived at Sixth av. and Twenty-Danto Therr.—A boy named James Sweeny was yes terday arrested, charged with snatching a port-monnaic containing $9 in coin from the hand of Mrs. Adelaide Terry of No. 19 London Terrace, West Twenty Third st., as she was passing the St. Nicholas Hotel, yesterday morning. After getting possession of the property, the youngster ran off, but was pursued and arrested by a policeman of the Fifteenth Ward. In his flight he threw away the portmonnaic, which was, however, recovered. The thief was conducted before Justice McGrath, to whom he confessed his guilt. He was locked up for trial.

CHARGE OF GRAND LANCENY —Two persons, named Wil-iam and Ellen Tucker, were arrested on Thursday, by officers Wertheimer and Smith, of the First Ward, charged with Wertheimer and Smith, of the First Ward, charged with stealing $80, in coin, from the house of Mr. Harrington, No. 61 Washington'st, where they bearded. Mr. Culver said if the woman is ready to surrender the bild, we will receive it, and give good bonds. Mr. Booth remarked that that is not the matter now before the Court.

The Judge said she made such an offer the other day, and ersons of undoubted responsibility are ready now to take should she be in the same mind. Mr. Hosth said she made the offer under trying circum-stances, but she is now determined to contest the question stances, but she is now determined to centest the question as to a right to the child.

The return was called for, but it was said Mr. Brady had it with him. The Judge looked over the copy of the petition handed, and said it did not contain an averagent that Mr. Tappan had authority to act for the father, which was in the original. Mr. Culver said it was so in the original, and enough had been set forth in the petition to authorize the Court to issue the warrant and habeas corpus.

The Judge said that testi mony must be presented on the present proceeding that Mr. Tappan had a right to act for the alleged father, also that the latter is entitled to the custody of the child.

Mr. Booth said they would deny the right of Mr. Tappan to act for Trainor (the father), and also deny the right of the latter to the child.

Mr. Tappan said he had authority from the father to act for him, and he new demanded of the woman (Miss Porter) to give him the custody of the child.

The Judge said he would not interfere.

Mr. Culver said he, too, had had abundant verbal authority from the father to act for him, and he new requested that the child be placed in the custody of Mr. Tappan.

The Judge repeated that he would not interfere, that she

Deceased (Mrs. H.) was originally the wife of Samuel Rathbone, from whom she was divorced in 1838. She had three children by said marriage—two sons and a daughter. In 1844 she married John Harrison, she being then pos sessed of certain personal property, as also the house in which she then resided, in Houston at, and the house she formerly lived at, in Leonard at. She made an ante unp-tial contract with Harrison, Solomon Kipp being appointed tial contract with Harrison. Solomon Kipp being appointed trustee, by which she retained during life the control of het property, the same as if she were a single woman, and also that she might dispose of it by will; and until she did make such will, one already made by her was to stand. She and Mr. Harrison were married Dec. 18, 1844, and she did Oct. 1, 1848, leaving property worth about $2,100. Previous to her death (in Feb., 1848,) she had sold the house in Leonard st., taking the bond and mortgage in question in part payment.

uestion in part payment. It is said that Mrs. II. made no other will than that which she had executed previous to her marriage with Mr. H.
That was made 25th April, 1844, in which she named John
Harrison as sole executor, and gave the whole of her personal property and the house in Houston at, to her two sonal property and the house in Houston st. to her two sons—(to be sold by Mr. H. in trust) and her house in Leonard st. to her daughter—(the whole of the children, two vious thereto, had assumed the name of Harrison.)

Mr. Harrison, in Feb. 1849, in accordance with the took out letters to the sonal state. took out letters testamentary, and took possession of the estate. He died the year following, March 10, 1850. Plain tiff was appointed, de bonis non, administrator of the estate of Mrs. H. in 1822, and brought this suit.

Defendant is executor of John Harrison, and claims as agent and assignee of the two sons—and claims title to the bond and mertgage—(which is placed in the hands of a bond and mertgage—(which is placed in the hands of a collector to abide the result)—as part of the estate of John Harrison, that the bond and mortgage came into possession of his wife after her marrisge, and that said Harrison was entitled to it by his marital right—or if not that by virtue of the trust in the will the property, as personal property, belongs to the two sons [plaintiff claims particularly for the daughter, whom he represents, as well as in his capacity as administrator]. Defendant also denies that he had possession of the bond and mortgage when the suit was commenced. The case is being tried before the Coart. It is still on. still on.

Mr. Goddard of Mass., who has just returned from North Carelina, states that before he left Mr. Williams, the purchaser of the Gold Hill tailings, had put up one of the machines invented by Mr. Berdan and had produced the most astonishing results, similar to those obtained in the experi-ments made here with the same crusher and amalgamator. He had been working but a portion of a day when Mr. God-

It will be seen by a "Notice to Contractors" in another column that the project of having a "great Goal Railroad" direct from the coal regions of Pennsylvania to this City to bring an abundant supply of "cheap feel" is about to be alized. The road is of the wide (six feet) gauge, and is already in operation from Sevanton to Great Bend, where it connects with the New-York and Eris, which gives it access to Western and Northern New-York, where the road is now doing quite an extensive coal business. The location of the road from Scranton to the Water Gap is confidently believed by its friends to be the only practicable direct route from the great anthracits coal fields of the Lackawana and Wyoming Valleys to this City. The officers of the road are Geo. D. Phelps, Previous; Wm. E. Warren, Treasurer and Secretary; Geo. W. Son eral Agent; Managers, Drake Mills, J. I. Phelps, John Howland, Henry Hotchkiss, John I. Blair, Daniel S. Miller Wm. E. Dodge, George Bulkley, George W. Scranton, J. B. Williams.
